In This Issue

This issue of the Residents' Journal focuses on the theme of military psychiatry. The issue begins with an article by the Guest Section Editor, George Loeffler, M.D., on the emerging concept of moral injury. In a case report, Daniel G. Allen, M.D., Wander S. Segura M.D., and Rebecca R. Burson, D.O., describe the effects of methylenedioxypropylrovalerone use in an active-duty service member, as well as the unique challenges use of this substance presents to both service members and military health care providers. Philip Y.T. Liu, M.D., and Dr. Burson present a case report of first-episode substance-induced mania with psychotic features in a decorated soldier evacuated from a combat-stressed environment. Ryan Richmond, B.S., discusses virtual reality exposure therapy for treatment of combat posttraumatic stress disorder. Last, Nicole Garber, M.D., presents data on the effects of military deployment on children.

- The American Journal of Psychiatry (AJP) has an Impact Factor of 12.539 according to the 2011 Journal Citation Reports® (Thomson Reuters, 2012), placing it 2nd among the 129 journals in psychiatry while still remaining the far-and-away leader in total citations.
- The American Journal of Psychiatry is also the #2 journal in psychiatry in terms of immediacy according to Thomson Scientific's Immediacy Index. This important performance metric is calculated by dividing the number of citations to articles published in a given year by the number of articles published in that year.
- A poll conducted by the BioMedical & Life Sciences Division of The Special Libraries Association identified the 100 most influential journals in all of Biology & Medicine over the last 100 years. The American Journal of Psychiatry was among those honored, the only psychiatry/psychology journal represented.

No other psychiatric journal reaches more psychiatrists with greater impact or immediacy than the one the overwhelming majority of psychiatrists considers essential: AJP.

George Widener is an American outsider artist who accepts his diagnosis of Asperger syndrome. He is now the most prodigious calendar calculating savant alive since the death of Kim Peek (who inspired the 'Rain Man'). He writes:

'To count in a dream: listen to the rythem [sic] inside, see every "1" as a Sunday, every "2" as a Monday, "3" equals Tuesday, "4" equals Wednesday, "5" equals Thursday, "6" equals Friday, "7" equals Saturday; then the months will come to you as you go through a century; to get to the new dream, you must start over, you must RESET the days. . . .'

Weekend Cruiser is on permanent display at the Collection de l'Art Brut, Lausanne, Switzerland. George Widener is represented in the UK by Henry Boxer. For more information visit <http://www.outsiderart.co.uk/widener.html>
