Continuing Medical Education

You now have an opportunity to earn CME credits by reading articles in The American Journal of Psychiatry. Three articles in each issue will each comprise a short course for up to 1 hour category 1 CME credit each. The course comprises reading the article and answering three multiple-choice questions with a single correct answer. The questions for the three articles in this issue begin on page 1858. CME Credit is issued only online. Readers who want credit must subscribe to the AJP Continuing Medical Education Course program (cme.psychiatryonline.org), select The American Journal of Psychiatry at that site, take the course(s) of their choosing, complete the evaluation form, and submit their answers for CME credit. In the online course, correct answers will be highlighted for the reader's reference; there is no minimum threshold score necessary for the credit. A link from the question to the correct answer in context will be highlighted in the associated article. A certificate for each course will be generated upon successful completion.

Notice

In the supplement that accompanied the August 2006 edition of the Journal (Practice Guideline for the Treatment of Patients With Substance Use Disorders, Second Edition), the reference citations did not appear. These citations were previously published in the print version (American Psychiatric Association Practice Guidelines for the Treatment of Psychiatric Disorders, Compendium 2006) available from American Psychiatric Publishing and also appear in the full guideline available online at the APA website (<http://www.psych.org>).
