IMPACT

Official Journal of the American Psychiatric Association

Edited by Robert Freedman, M.D.

- The American Journal of Psychiatry has an impact factor of 12.759, a rise from last year's 12.522 and 2-point rise from the previous year's 10.545, according to the recently released 2010 Journal Citation Reports® (Thomson Reuters, 2011), placing it 2nd among the 126 journals in psychiatry journals indexed, while still remaining the far-and-away leader in total citations.
- The American Journal of Psychiatry (AJP) is also the #2 journal in psychiatry in terms of immediacy according to Thomson Scientific's Immediacy Index. This important performance metric is calculated by dividing the number of citations to articles published in a given year by the number of articles published in that year.

- The Immediacy Index is a good measure of how quickly a given journal's articles are cited—AJP's #2 placement is a result of publishing articles that are relevant, covering current “hot” topics and cutting-edge research, and getting these findings to the field faster with AJP in Advance, the Journal's online-ahead-of-print publication protocol.
- A recent poll conducted by the BioMedical & Life Sciences Division of The Special Libraries Association identified the 100 most influential journals in all of Biology & Medicine over the last 100 years. The American Journal of Psychiatry was among those honored, the only psychiatry/psychology journal represented.

No other psychiatric journal reaches more psychiatrists with greater impact or immediacy than the journal that the overwhelming majority of psychiatrists considers essential: AJP.

Talk to Me (2010).
Susan Adams (b. 1966)

Susan Adams is an artist working in Brecon, South Wales. She has recently completed a project interviewing people who hear voices and producing interpretations of what they told her.

She writes: 'I am interested in the locations where the organic and the mechanical find an uneasy relationship. My recent project with people who hear voices resulted in a book They Leak Through Me, and took me further into an enquiry into the giving and receiving of information in the air. One of the voice-hearers I interviewed felt almost like a receiver that was picking up other people's thoughts accidentally on the airwaves. Talk to Me is from my current series of paintings, prints and sculpture in which satellite dishes and telecommunications masts rise from the ground like hermits looking to the sky for celestial knowledge. They also transmit, and in this image with its echoes of the tree of knowledge in the Garden of Eden, we might wonder where this particular knowledge is taking us.'

A further selection of Susan Adams's prints and paintings can be found on: www.susan-adams.co.uk

We are always looking for interesting and visually appealing images for the cover of the Journal and would welcome suggestions or pictures, which should be sent to Dr Allan Beveridge, British Journal of Psychiatry, 17 Belgrave Square, London SW1X 8PG, UK or bjp@rcpsych.ac.uk.
