UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
The University of Minnesota, Twin Cities (UMTC)

The Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Science at the University of Minnesota Medical School is seeking a psychiatrist to join the faculty and serve in a full-time, academic-track position as the Physician Chief for the M Health Fairview Behavioral Health Service Line, our major clinical medical center partner. For appropriately qualified candidates, there is also the potential for a Vice-Chair role within the Department in conjunction with this position.

About the Department

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences has undergone new leadership and is now embarked on a healthy pattern of growth and cutting-edge initiatives, with particular strengths in translational psychiatric neuroscience research and in developing state-of-the-art models of integrating transformative research developments within clinical programs. The Chair is committed to supporting productive and fulfilling career trajectories for all faculty, fostering a culture where people with diverse backgrounds and interests contribute to our collective success, and creating a healthy academic community where department members can thrive.

The Department offers courses and clerkships in all four years of the Medical School, as well as a General Psychiatry Residency, a Child and Adolescent Fellowship, a Psychosomatics Fellowship, a Geriatric Psychiatry Fellowship, and a Fellowship in Addiction Medicine. There are also research training fellowships in eating disorders, addictions, and neuromodulation. To learn more about the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, please visit: <https://www.psychiatry.umn.edu/>

The University of Minnesota, Twin Cities (UMTC), is among the largest public research universities in the country, offering undergraduate, graduate, and professional students a multitude of opportunities for study and research. Located at the heart of one of the nation's most vibrant, progressive, diverse, and affordable metropolitan communities, students on the campuses in Minneapolis and St. Paul benefit from extensive partnerships with world-renowned health centers, international corporations, government agencies, and arts, nonprofit, and public service organizations.

About the Position

The Physician Chief of the Behavioral Health Service Line in the joint clinical enterprise known as M Health Fairview will serve as the academic physician partner in a dyad with a Fairview executive partner. These two individuals will share equal levels of accountability and decision-making authority for all aspects of service line performance across the organization. The dyad will work closely with the Department Chair, community physicians, and other key stakeholders across the system and will focus on quality, safety, patient experience, employee engagement, financial performance, growth, regulatory compliance, strategic planning and capital planning. The Physician Chief, as an academic faculty member, will also represent and advocate for enhanced integration of educational and clinical research programming across the service line. This role embodies the best of bringing academic expertise and vision into real-world clinical care.

The Ideal Candidate

The successful candidate will join a strong and growing academic psychiatry practice, with expert multi-disciplinary teams in integrated care, child and adolescent psychiatry, substance use disorders, psychosis, mood, personality disorders. Academic responsibilities include full participation in departmental and interdisciplinary activities including teaching of medical students, residents, and other interprofessional learners. Faculty will have opportunities to participate in scholarly activities including research and publication. Demonstration of clinical excellence and gaining a national reputation for clinical expertise and/or innovations in education/clinical programming is required for professional advancement. The candidate will have a strong commitment to scholarly achievement to support advancement within the institution. Robust mentoring is available for scholarly work, in a variety of disorders and methodologies.

The candidate must be eligible to be licensed in Minnesota and be board-certified or board-eligible. She/he must have significant experience in clinical program-building and medical center leadership roles, preferably within a large integrated health system and/or academic setting.

Diversity Statement

The University recognizes and values the importance of diversity and inclusion in enriching the employment experience of its employees and in supporting the academic mission. The University is committed to attracting and retaining employees with varying identities and backgrounds.

The University of Minnesota provides equal access to and opportunity in its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.
