CORRECTION

When the article “Dopaminergic Enhancement of Striatal Response to Reward in Major Depression,” by Roee Admon et al. (doi:10.1176/appi.ajp.2016.16010111) was originally posted online on Oct. 24, 2016, some statistics in the first paragraph of the Results section were incorrectly reported. There were no significant main effects or interactions for the repeated-measures ANOVA with learning type as the within-subject variable and diagnosis and drug as between-subject variables. Also, for reward learning, the statistical data reflecting the main effect of diagnosis due to reduced reward learning in the depressed compared with the control group are $F=6.28$, $df=1, 75$, $p=0.014$. These errors have been corrected, and the article was reposted on Nov. 4, 2016. The article will appear as amended for its appearance in the April 2017 issue as well as in its online posting as part of that issue.

CORRECTION

When the article “Perinatal Substance Abuse: At the Clinical Crossroads of Policy and Practice,” by Samuel J. House et al. (doi:10.1176/appi.ajp.2015.15081104) was published in the November 2016 issue, the key in Figure 1 was reversed. In the figure, dark green should indicate “criminal act” and light green “child abuse.” The key was corrected and the article reposted on Nov. 15, 2016, and now appears as intended in the online edition of the November 2016 issue.
